DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on 10/22/08 has been fully considered and made of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicants regard as the invention. In claim 12, the claimed language “... said identification information” lack proper antecedent basis; the claimed language “another article” (Claim 12, line 10) is confused as it refers to a single “article” in line 2, which is lead free solder, or to something else; the claimed language “discriminated articles” (Line 12) lack proper antecedent; the claimed language “separate materials” is unclear as it does refer to “a material” in line 8 or something else; the claimed language “said materials” (Line 14) lack antecedent basis; the claimed language “the rest of the article”, “the same” and “the same” in line 15 is confusing and unclear; ... At least, the language not only is held to be vague and indefinite, there is no art rejection in the claims and the applicants should do well to amend the claims with respect to the disclosure in proper format to clarify the claimed language and overcome the 112, 2nd paragraph, in order to obtain possible patent coverage.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicants' arguments with respect to claims 12 and 13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 USC 112, second paragraph. Applicants should revise these claims completely to define all the limitations with respect to the specification and the drawings to correct the indefinite and structural languages mentioned because the recitations of claims 12 and 13 do not provide clear structural limitations of the recited subject matter, therefore claims 12 and 13 are not given any rejection based on prior art at this point of prosecution. MPEP 2173.06 states: "... where there is a great deal of confusion and uncertainty as to the proper interpretation of the limitations of a claim, it would not be proper to reject such a claim on the basis of prior art. As stated in In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962), a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 should not be based on considerable speculation about the meaning of terms employed in a claim or assumptions that must be made as to the scope of the claims.".

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicants' disclosure.
